Year 11 Special! Dene Magnifier

Clear views of ~~school~~ Y11 news....

Half way through (nearly...)

A huge well done to Year 11. We are as good as half way through the exam series. The feedback from every quarter, students, parents/carers, teachers, invigilators, has been universally positive.

It has also been great to see the revision sessions offered by staff really working. They are using these sessions to relentlessly focus on each exam and students are really gaining from these sessions.

The week after half term is a busy week and we know that students will come back refreshed from half term as well as full of knowledge that they have gained through their work through the week.

Half Term Revision Sessions

There are sessions going on at school from Tuesday to Friday. Individual teachers will have contacted students this applies to.

There is also a huge amount of resources available through Google Classroom. Can we draw your attention particularly to the 'exam walk throughs' that have been recorded by a number of subjects. These are really powerful and useful resources.

The Maths recordings are on the website here:

One of the recurring reflections from students has been 'that paper was easy' or 'the topics I knew came up'. Please remember that there is no such thing as an easy or difficult paper, there are only papers that we have prepared well for. We are so proud of all the work of students, staff and parents/carers that has ensured that we have been able to sit so many well prepared for papers!

Rest

Do build in some rest. Each student deserves some time to do something they enjoy. From this they can then come back to revision with gusto, knowing that in two and a half weeks time it will all be over and the long summer is ahead.
